

ISABELLE FOX

With designs inspired by elegant women of the past such as Edie Sedgwick, Jean Shrimpton and Audrey Hepburn, Isabelle Fox's recently launched eponymous label also pays homage to her designer grandmother, whose surname is Fox. Using the traditional couture techniques her grandmother taught her, Isabelle has developed her own unique classic line – think fitted waists, longer hemlines and flattering necklines. Prices from £145, available at isabellefox.com

Peplum top,
£155

LABELS
TO LOVE

Bag, £475

MONTUNAS

The first Montunas bag was made on a cattle ranch in Costa Rica 25 years ago by former model Elke Ruge. Now her two daughters, Amanda and Elena, have joined the family business to produce a range inspired by the flora and fauna of the Central American country. Consisting of three key shapes and styles, the large tote, the picnic tote and the bucket bag are all lined with a rainforest print to add a tropical twist to classic leather exteriors. Prices from £475, available at montunas.com

RELATIVE DESIGNS

Be it father and daughter or a sibling duo, these family members have fashion in their DNA...

Jumper, £280
Trousers, stylist's own

& DAUGHTER

Founded in London in 2013 by Buffy Reid and her father Columba, & Daughter stems from their enduring fascination with knitwear. Made by British and Irish artisans, each sweater is expertly knitted using traditional techniques and only the finest natural yarns. Beautiful and practical, these pieces will form the backbone of your wardrobe – we're calling it knitwear for life. Prices from £117, available at and-daughter.com